If you are going through life aimlessly and without purpose, you will not experience the fulfillment that God has in store for you. If you are living your life your own way apart from God's direction, you will not be able to have peace in your soul because you cannot know for sure what will happen to you after you die.

You might not experience feelings of guilt about things you have done in the past but that does not mean God is pleased with your life. I strongly advise you to give some serious thought to these things because God has appointed His Son Jesus as judge and He knows every one of your past and current thoughts and actions.

Don't keep trying to drown out that haunting emptiness. Don't keep pretending that everything is okay and nothing worse will happen to you after you die. When you die, you will be judged according to the things you have done during Your life.
